Security Management System Resources

We shall provide all expertise and resources to meet all your organization's expectations for engaging with the organization's security management team in supporting, improving, and managing the existing security arrangements. We have our team of world-class professionals and consultants who shall provide your organization with the best of the best analysis of the existing safety and security measures potentials to make it impregnable. We extend an overall insight in the shape of a comprehensive evaluation report that includes an Executive Summary, Findings, Recommendations, and Conclusion.

Security Arrangements

We concurrently conduct a review of all your organization's security planning and emergency response plan documents. Our security professionals conduct site evaluations of your complexes of Office Buildings, Warehouses, and Residential Dwellings on the organization's campuses, Storage facilities, and all other organization's satellite locations in the ambit of one large campus location and its allied site.

Security Coordination

This interaction with your company's security focal points, staff members who are responsible for the safety and security measures of your organization, shall provide our professional staff and member consultants of the team with the essential documents for pre-visit analysis. These documents are essentially required a month in advance of the tentatively planned date of the site visit and start of the assignment to conduct the site safety and security management review and surveys in advance of our team's visit.

Security Operations

Your organization's sites and satellite locations included in our safety and security review report shall incorporate all details that make your organization's facilities become impregnable and secured upon implementation of our professional team's consultants' recommendations once implemented. We shall, in consultation with the responsible person/personnel, further coordinate and analyze in detail any of your organization's overall security operations with complete observations and recommendations to ensure that our follow-up review incorporates our detailed response for rectification of anomalies as needed.

This report is inclusive of recommendations that cover how to improve existing safety and security measures on-site and facilities of the organization's complexes. We also provide support to incorporate in the report all existing resources and resources required to make your organization's facilities fully compatible with safety and security standards, policies, and procedures already established by the organization's team.

Security Training

After our initial review of the documents, which leads our team to a preliminary outline report, which shall be prepared with the support of our teams' vision and security assessments, including the threat assessment for mitigating risk and risks management tools required. This initial draft SMSR report shall cover the mention of additional resources needed for security training and effective security operations, required tools, and tentacles. Thus, to enhance the existing safety and security measures with a futuristic vision of ongoing improvements that need to be either implemented forthwith, or in the short-term or, for that matter, in the distant future. Thus, on finalization of our security site examination and assessment reports, your company and/or organization's facilities will become a much safer and much more secure place to withstand the present day's prevailing security threats and challenges.

Findings and Recommendations

After our draft report is reviewed by your organization's responsible security focal point and staff members, we coordinate and deliberate the full and final report of the organization with the highest-ranking official of the inspected organization. In most cases, it will be the Chief Executive Officer/Executive Director/Director of the Global safety and security operations or any other nominated responsible officer of the organization who is in charge of local or global safety and security measures.

Compliance, Evaluation, and Monitoring Report

A complete overview of Compliance, Evaluation, and Monitoring status shall be shared as agreed by parties participating in the SMSR Inspection processes. This methodology provides our team with an opportunity to assess the ground situation and relate to present safety and security arrangements existing on your site. Additionally, it prepares our team to conduct an in-depth analysis of what exists on the ground and what needs to be done to improve your site to enhance your site's safety and security measures. The future compliance, evaluation, and monitoring processes for safety and security measures at all your inspected sites shall be arranged on mutually agreed terms and conditions as needed or required for all your organization's inspected sites, facilities, and locations as deemed appropriate by both parties.

Conclusion

At the point and time when the conclusion of the assignment is agreed upon to finalize the organization's report, we will give a final review of the discussed points if any part of the report needs to be reviewed and shall include observations in our revisions and submit our report with a finalized Executive Summary, Findings and Recommendations. Upon finalization of the report, a final report for approval by your organization's CEO and/or other responsible people shall be submitted promptly. A glance overview training PowerPoint presentation of our teams' recommendations and conclusions shall be presented as and when requested.
